Firm Profile

Since 1974, Historical Research Associates, Inc. (HRA), has provided consulting services for public and private clients in cultural resource management (CRM), litigation support, and historical research. HRA is classified as a small business concern as defined under Subpart 19.1 and a women-owned small business under Subpart 19.15 of the Federal Acquisition Regulations (third-party certified in 2021 by the US Women's Chamber of Commerce and officially recognized by the Small Business Administration in 2022). We are an Equal Employment Opportunity employer and work to implement our Affirmative Action Plan. HRA has 25 Archaeologists who meet the Secretary of the Interior's professional qualification standards in Archaeology, 16 Historians who meet the qualification standards in History, and 7 Architectural Historians and Preservationists who meet the qualification standards in Architectural History. HRA's support staff includes two certified interpretive planners, GIS specialists, cultural resource laboratory specialists, information technology specialists, digital interpretation specialists, desktop publishers, and editors. Our company-wide computer network and in-house production capabilities enable us to deliver timely, competitive, and professional research services.
